Mingalapar!

Welcome to RecyGlo's inaugural monthly newsletter. As the year comes to a close, we look back on recent events, share our very exciting news and provide tips to help you with your responsible consumption and waste management journey.

It's All Positive From Here!

RecyGlo are the proud winners of this year's Positive Impact Award in the Young Entrepreneurs Award competition held by CCI France Myanmar. As the winner for this year, RecyGlo has been recognised as having an exemplary impact on Myanmar communities on environmental issues and for its integration of environmental considerations in our strategies and activities.

Our team's hard work and commitment to tackling Myanmar's sustainability and waste management issues have been celebrated and we are so proud of our team! We also want to thank everyone who has worked with RecyGlo or used our services. You have all been a part of our journey and an integral part of our successes and we know that together we can build on our achievement and accomplish even greater things.

“ This is our second time that we have been nominated [for the award]. We were very anxious for this year due to highly competitive and qualified candidates. There were also several rounds that we have to prove orally and in writing. When we heard that we won. I cried a little bit inside and my heart melt. It was a moment that I knew RecyGlo becomes one. ”

- Okka Phyo Maung, CFO and Co-Founder

“ At RecyGlo, our team is working hard because we are now using our strengths and skillsets to reduce waste pollution. This Positive Impact Award from CCI France means a booster for us to continue working on what we believe. Viva la RecyGlo! ”

- Shwe Yamin Oo, CEO and Co-Founder

RecyGlo and the Recycling Factory

Charlie had the chocolate factory but we think our clients were able to see something even more magical. On the 14th November, our lucky team members and valued clients were able to take part in a visit to RecyGlo's recycling facilities for Paper, Glass, Plastic, and Organic waste. Segregating your waste and then having it picked up is one thing but have you ever wondered what happens to it afterwards? Some of our very lucky clients were able to see just that, a tour of the recycling facilities to see what happens after RecyGlo picks up your bins.

Paper sent to be recycled is shredded and then placed in a repulper. The pulp is then processed to create the reels of paper seen in this photo.

Below: Sein Nagar Glass Factory

Glass sent to be recycled is crushed and then melted down to be hand blown into renewed glass products such as bottles, vases and glass cups.

To take part in the tour yourself, contact our friendly team to enquire about joining a tour.

It's just another perk of signing up to a service with RecyGlo, the opportunity to gain a rare look into the recycling process from start to finish.

What's Going On, Yangon?

Did you know in Yangon alone, 2,300 tonnes of waste is produced each day? Without any recycling or segregation, this waste is destined for landfills or even dumped on the streets and waterways, causing havoc particularly during monsoon season. But don't lose hope, there is something that every individual can do in both the home and business, and that is Refuse, Reduce, Reuse, and Recycle.

Actioning these 4 R's will ensure that you combat the waste problem at the source. Reducing the amount of waste produced to begin with is the most important principle in tackling Yangon's ever increasing garbage problem.

Where things can no longer be reduced, reused or refused, here RecyGlo's role becomes so important. Working to tackle the waste generated, giving a second life to otherwise dumped trash means that fewer resources are taken to create brand new products. The increased awareness and subsequent demand for recycled products means we can all slowly work to create a zero waste society.

Did you know?

The symbol on plastic items doesn't mean that it is recyclable or the number of times that it can be recycled. It refers to the type of plastic and is used to discern which items are actually recyclable. At RecyGlo we recycle numbers 1, 2, 4, and 5.

So you've got the bins, now what?

First waste needs to be segregated. This means that plastics, paper, metals, and organic waste need to be separated and put into their respective bins.

Ensure you separate plastics in recyclable plastics and non-recyclable plastics. Remember, numbers 1, 2, 4 and 5 are recyclable, all others must go into general waste.

All metals are recyclable but make sure they don't have any sharp edges for the safety of our handlers. Metals with sharp edges should be wrapped in newspapers before being placed into the bin.

Make sure all the paper recycled is pure paper and not blended with plastic e.g. glossy paper, receipts, photo paper (they should be placed in a general waste bin). Tissues and paper cups are a no go! Instead they can be placed in the compost barrel.

Don't wait for the New Year to make your resolution, make the change to smart waste management and get RecyGlo-ing today!

Look out for our next issue for exciting news about our new app "Oh My Trash" and upcoming events.

We'll also include can't-miss waste reduction tips and exciting updates on RecyGlo news and events.
